The school we have invited is in a poor area of Nairobi. For most of the students, if not all of them, it was their first time using a computer. I think they did very well. They were extremely attentive and serious. CERN must look so strange to them, such a different world from their usual environment!

During the videoconference, it was quite striking how different was the behaviour of the students in Jerusalem, relaxed, at ease, and the behaviour of the students in Nairobi, very formal, very polite! Finally, we were quite lucky not to have any powercut yesterday nor serious internet issue.

I am willing to repeat this next year. We could even have two or more sessions if we can find more partners who can accommodate with our time constraints.
