

Julian Rey

My name is Julian Rey, I am an undergraduate physics student at the Simon Bolivar University in Caracas, Venezuela. I am interested in Mathematical and Theoretical physics (in particular, anything related to General Relativity and gravitational physics) and plan to pursue my PhD next year. Currently working in QCD Phenomenology in ATLAS.