

T parity conserving heavy gauge bosons at gamma-gamma Collider

Saturday, 11 March 2006 09:20 (20 minutes)

The T parity conserving Little Higgs Model predicts the existence of heavy gauge bosons. We probe the production of heavy charged gauge bosons in the upcoming gamma-gamma collider. We further study its decay to heavy neutral gauge bosons (a promising dark matter candidate) and W bosons.

Primary author: Dr DUTTA, Sukanta (SGTB Khalsa College, University of Delhi.)

Co-author: Prof. DEBAJYOTI, Choudhury (Department of Physics and Astrophysics, University of Delhi)

Presenter: Dr DUTTA, Sukanta (SGTB Khalsa College, University of Delhi.)

Session Classification: Higgs and EWSB

Track Classification: Higgs and EWSB