

Places to eat and drink

Some of the Old Pubs in town: (good beer and good food)

Turf Tavern

White Horse

The Bear

King's Arms

Eagle and Child

Some restaurants in town

Turl Street Kitchen (excellent local food and run not for profit by students) located in Turl Street (which it is claimed was the inspiration for Diagon Alley in Harry Potter)

Marco's (Italian) High Street in a building dating to 1680

White Rabbit (Pizza) Friar's Entry

Shanghai 30's (Chinese) St. Aldates

Chiang Mai Kitchen (Thai) Kemp Hall Passage (building dates to 1630)

There are many good ethnic restaurants along the Cowley Road very near St Hilda's a few of examples:

Kasbah (Middle Eastern)

Kadai and Nan (Nepalese and Indian)

Le Kesh (Middle Eastern)

Near to Particle Physics

Pierre Victoire (French) Little Clarendon Street

Branca (Italian) Walton Street

Brasserie Blanc (French) Walton Street

Mezzeto (Mediterranean) Walton Street

Jericho Café Walton Street

Things to see in Oxford

Radcliffe Camera Square:

Brasenose/University Church/All Souls/Bodleian surround it, and the Bridge of Sighs is nearby (Inspectors Morse and Lewis are always hanging around here)

Museums:

Ashmolean

Natural History

Pitt Rivers

Colleges: (All the 38+ colleges are beautiful)

Magdalen

ChristChurch

Merton

New College

Walks in open spaces:

Christ Church Meadow

Botanic Garden

Magdalen Deer Park

University Parks

Shops:

The Covered Market (traditional shops from about 1780) *

Guides to Oxford

<https://www.dailyinfo.co.uk/oxford/guide/introduction>

What's on in Oxford today

<http://www.dailyinfo.co.uk>