Localised Dirac eigenmodes and Goldstone's theorem at finite temperature

Wednesday 28 July 2021 06:45 (15 minutes)

I show that a finite density of near-zero localised Dirac modes can lead to the disappearance of the massless excitations predicted by the finite-temperature version of Goldstone's theorem in the chirally-broken phase of a gauge theory.

Primary author: GIORDANO, Matteo (Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest)

Presenter: GIORDANO, Matteo (Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest)

Session Classification: QCD at nonzero Temperature and Density

Track Classification: QCD at nonzero Temperature and Density