

International Workshop on Cosmic-Ray Muography

Ghent University, Belgium
November 24-26, 2016

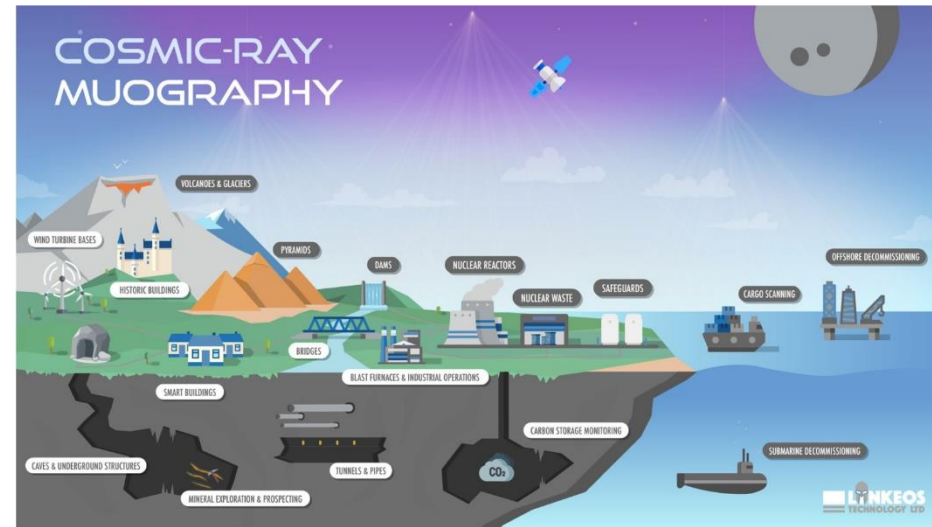

Organized and supported by

Cosmic-Ray Muography

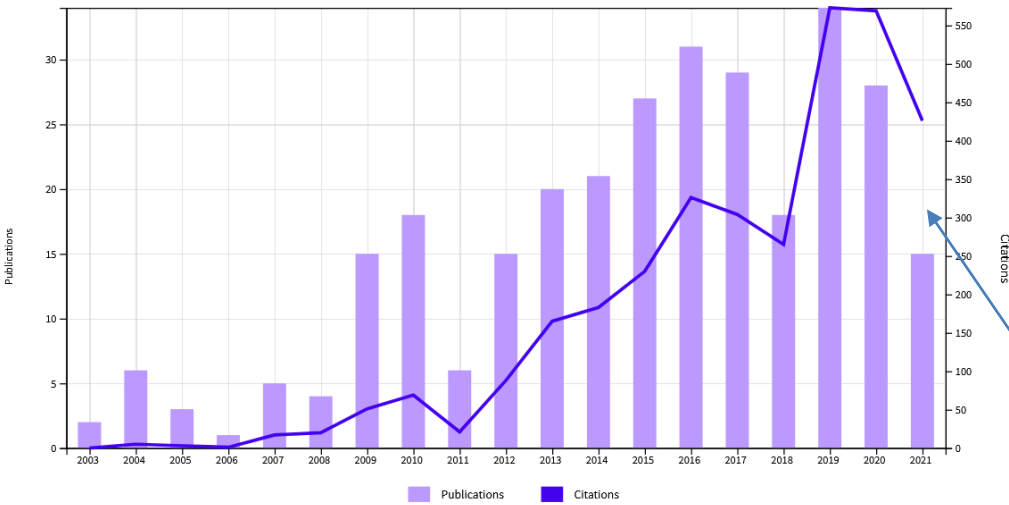

Increasing amount of involved research groups around the world, of publications, applications, companies ...

Bring the community together in a multiday event (2.5 days is even a bit short as it turns out ...)

Web of Science

Lynkeos Technology Ltd.

Foster collaboration & education
Too bad for Covid-19 of course ...

Can Muography2021 fix the dip in 2021 ? 😊

Ghent is the capital and largest city of the East Flanders province. The city started as a Celtic settlement at the confluence of the Rivers Scheldt and Leie. In the late Middle Ages, due to the textile trade, the city became one of the largest and richest cities of northern Europe with some 50000 people in 1300. Today it is a busy city with a port and Ghent University 😊

Your list of "things to see" should include the medieval Gravensteen Castle, the belfry, the cathedral with the famous painting of the brothers Van Eyck "The Adoration of the Mystic Lamb", the St. Nicolas Church, the three beguinages, monasteries, etc

"Het Pand"

"Het Pand" is a former Dominican monastery, located in the historical centre of the city, on the banks of the river "Leie". The oldest parts of the building date from the 13th century. During five centuries it was extended and refashioned in different styles by different owners. In 1956 the building was put on the list of classified premises. When the UGent acquired the building, its renovation and restoration took from 1971 until 1991. Since then, "Het Pand" has been offering a wide range of possibilities for the organization of scientific congresses and cultural events.

"Het Pand" houses some valuable collections, such as the rich ethnographical and archaeological collections of the university, the Museum for the History of Medicine, full-size photographs of paintings of Brueghel and Early Flemish Masters, and an interesting collection of stained glass.

Some Practicalities: local

- Please follow all covid safety measures and wear your face masks at all times when inside the conference center
- Coffee breaks will be served in the Kloostergang
- Sandwich lunch foreseen for today (Wednesday); on Thursday/Friday participants are free to take lunch in the city center from the main entrance of the building, go left to the end of the corridor (ladies ground floor, gents first floor)

- Wifi in the room: Eduroam; extra guest account (UGentGuest):
 - Login: guestTband; passwd: 9RLXhzZA

Some Practicalities: Zoom

- Please use your full name when entering the Zoom room
- Mute your microphone during the talks
- During the discussion after each talk, “raise your hand” on Zoom when you would like to ask a question and wait for the session chair to call your name
- It’s nice to see faces (certainly without mask ...), so feel free to turn your camera on

- The poster session on Thursday, 3:30-4:15pm will be organized online on Zoom
- Poster presenters, if not done yet, please upload your poster as soon as possible such that people have a chance to go through beforehand
- During the poster session, every poster will have its own Zoom breakout room; all poster presenters are asked to join their corresponding breakout room to discuss their contribution
- Participants can freely move from one breakout room to the other to see all posters and ask questions

Enjoy ...

Enjoy this workshop and the city of Ghent !

