JENAS 2022, May 3rd-6th,

Serrano 117, 28006 Madrid

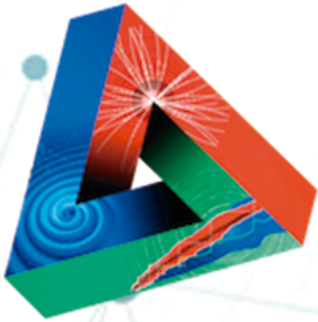

The Second Joint ECFA-NuPECC-ApPEC Seminar (JENAS) will be held from May 3rd to 6th, 2022 in Madrid <https://indico.cern.ch/e/JENAS2022/>

The seminar is a prestigious joint meeting of the particle, nuclear and astroparticle physics scientific communities exploring synergies and highlighting recent achievements and challenges.

The participants represent scientists of the three communities, the funding agencies (important for our field) as well as large international projects and collaborations.

The detailed program is available on the website <https://indico.cern.ch/e/JENAS2022/>.

Registration & payment: The deadline for registration is April 22th, 2022. All invited speakers need to register and contribute with the payment fee of 160€ that can be paid by bank transfer or visa. The fee covers the coffees, lunches, reception and dinner.

2nd Joint ECFA-NuPECC-APPEC Seminar

Travel: Madrid is in the centre of Spain. The best option to reach Madrid is by plane. The airport has four terminals all are connected to town by bus (1,5-2,5 €) and subway (1,5 +3€ extra charge), there is also the option of taxi (fixed price of 30 €). Madrid Airport is directly connected to all European capitals and many other destinations, there are also fast train connections (AVE) with Barcelona, Malaga, Toledo, Segovia, Sevilla and Valencia. More details are provided on the conference web site.

Accommodation Madrid has a large offer of accommodation possibilities. We have pre-booked a number of rooms in several hotels. Please check the website and be attentive to the deadline for keeping the prices. We have also added some 2* hotels in town selected by the Town hall association.

Looking forward seeing you in Madrid in May, your participation will make the conference very attractive. Due to COVID restrictions the number of participants is limited to 250 under the principle of first register first served.

With best regards,

Andreas Haungs (Chair of APPEC), Karl Jakobs (Chair of ECFA), Marek Lewitowicz (Chair of NuPECC) and Maria Garcia Borge (Chair of the Local Organizing Committee)
