

African Day For Physics

by FAICAL BARZI

In Order to popularize physics among all Africans and spread love of physical sciences within all walks of life. I propose to celebrate an African Day For Physics within which all enthusiasts can campaign for the betterment of African life through physics. Also this will be a day to celebrate all physics achievements accomplished by researchers, educators and students within a year which could be motivating to work hardily and steadily.