CERNbox EOS website for e-learning previews

Wednesday 8 December 2021 15:07 (7 minutes)

I am working in HR-LD and my use case of CERNbox includes of course common administrative documents storing/editing/sharing (MS office and Libre office).

I do also use the Website creation functionality to make the preview of the e-learning development projects available to stakeholders. Thanks to that, I can avoid multiple uploads to the LMS and I can also dodge the need to enrol to a course in order to access it.

I provide only one link to the reviewers and I can upload very quickly the updates with a single drag and drop.

the final course on the LMS is free of multiple revisions and the LMS itself is free of tons of garbage files while the development progresses.

The preview are in HTML5/Javascript format.

Example of course stored on CERNbox

The same course released on the LMS
