

W2D2 Special Memo

18 November 2021

Hello IPPOG members and friends,

I just want to remind you that World Wide Data Day is coming up on December 1 and that there is still a little time to register for participation in two ways:

- For teachers and students, we have extended registration to midnight UTC next Monday. If you know a teacher who is interested, please send them to <https://quarknet.org/content/world-wide-data-day> to learn more and follow the registration link.
- We can still use a few more moderators. You or an interested colleague can register at <https://forms.gle/93536FKkhJEmJfcD6>.

Thanks!

All the best,

Ken
