First Circular

This is the first announcement of the fifth edition of the European Nuclear Physics Conference. EuNPC 2022 is organized by the Nuclear Physics Board of the European Physical Society, The Nuclear Physics Group of the Real Sociedad Española de Física (GEFN/RSEF), the Nuclear Nuclear Physics Spanish Network (FNUC) and the University of Santiago de Compostela (IGFAE/USC). The conference will take place from October 24th to 28th, 2022 in Santiago de Compostela, Spain.

In the spirit of the Bochum 2009, Bucharest 2012, Groningen 2015 and Bologna 2018 European Nuclear Physics conferences, EuNPC 2022 aims to review and discuss the status and prospects in the field of nuclear physics and its applications. The conference will be a showcase for forefront theoretical and experimental developments, where the interplay between outstanding research and innovative concepts in the field will be promoted.

This edition will consist of invited plenary talks given by outstanding researchers and parallel sessions in which we will favour the participation of talented young researchers with oral and poster contributions selected based on their quality, importance, and impact in the field of Nuclear Physics. On top of them, some time slots will be dedicated to special talks given by researchers awarded with the last edition of Nuclear Physics Division NPD prizes.

The scientific program covers the following fields:

- Accelerators and Instrumentation
- Nuclear Structure, Spectroscopy, and Dynamics
- Nuclear Astrophysics
- Astroparticle Physics
- Heavy Ion Collisions and QCD Phases
- Hadron Structure, Spectroscopy, and Dynamics
- Fundamental Symmetries and Interactions
- Nuclear Physics Applications
- Few-Body Systems
