

Contribution ID: 430

Type: Invited talk

The SABRE South Experiment

Wednesday 14 December 2022 16:00 (30 minutes)

The SABRE-South experiment, located at SUPL, Australia, aims to detect dark matter to provide a model independent test of the signal observed by DAMA/LIBRA.

This talk will describe the complexity of SABRE-South and the general status of its assembly.

Author: BOLOGNINO, Irene (The University of Adelaide, Adelaide, SA 5005, Australia. ARC Centre of Excellence for Dark Matter Particle Physics, Australia.)

Presenter: BOLOGNINO, Irene (The University of Adelaide, Adelaide, SA 5005, Australia. ARC Centre of Excellence for Dark Matter Particle Physics, Australia.)

Session Classification: AIP: Nuclear and Particle Physics

Track Classification: AIP Congress: AIP: Nuclear and Particle Physics