

Making it easier to write components

Tuesday, 13 March 2007 11:10 (30 minutes)

In this session, we will discuss options for improving the experience of the component writer. This could potentially include improvements to CCM libraries to ease the handling of configuration trees in Perl, discussion of libraries currently in use and suggestions for new ones, ...

Session Classification: Core tools and components