with a semi-continuous spectrum

Alpha source\(^{241}\text{Am}\) used;

A semi-continuous spectrum (Fig. 11) is obtained using energy loss of α-particles in air corresponding to varying distance between detector and source (Fig. 12);

No periodic errors found (Fig. 10);

Results of the developed DAQ system correspond well by the commercial instrument used;