

The readout plane consists of tens of modules, and the digitized pulses from all of the sensors will be transferred to the DAM modules on the edge. There will be around 20 high speed data transmission links between DAMs and the PCIe card in the DAQ system. The optical modules could be on the readout plane or on boards outside the TPC.