

*ASPERA Workshop
The next generation projects in Deep Underground Laboratories
June 30 – July 2, 2011, Zaragoza & Canfranc, Spain*

Neutrino Mass measurements in America

Giorgio Gratta

gratta@stanford.edu

Stanford University, Physics Department, Stanford, United States of America

ABSTRACT

I will report on the status of neutrino mass measurements based in North America. These include several neutrino-less double-beta decay experiments and a new technique being developed to substantially increase the reach for kinematic mass measurements.