Round 2.

For most people, life is as good as it's ever been. The increase in global societal conditions has come at the cost of environmental degradation.

- business as usual 2020 lifestyle
- broad spread environmental degradation
- economic development + societal wellbeing prioritised over environment
- token effort for sustainable carbon footprints + food production
- life expectancy increased, mortality decreased
- extreme weather and climate conditions prevail

The world in 2050 is shaped by three decades of gradual societal improvement, coupled with half-hearted environmental stewardship.

What do you want to do more?

Set a goal for the next hour as a team.
This could mean:
...Revisiting ideas, building on them....
...completing your idea napkins...
...prototyping an idea further...
...unpacking an opportunity card/problem space
...generate new ideas for new cards
