

Julia Priess-Buchheit

Christian Albrechts Universität Kiel, Germany and Miller International Knowledge, Spain

Biography

Prof. Dr. Julia Priess-Buchheit is an expert in teaching and learning of open science, ethics and integrity, as well as in social technologies.

Currently, she conducts her research at Kiel University and accompanies the European Open Science Movement at Miller International Knowledge. Before this transition, she was a professor of Education and Didactics at the University of Applied Sciences Coburg (Academic Centre for Sciences and Humanities), where she implemented an interdisciplinary study program for all faculties. In 2020, she became the Dean of Studies at the Academic Centre for Sciences and Humanities and founded the (German-speaking) Teaching and Learning Scientific Practice network.

Since 2018, she chairs the board of the Zentrum für Konstruktive Wissenschaft e.V. (ZKE), an interdisciplinary research group with a fifty-year tradition. She coordinates IP4OS (HorizonEurope 2025-2027) and Path2Integrity (Horizon2020, 2019-2022) and leads the Network for Education and Research Quality (NERQ).

Contact me:

buchheit@paedagogik.uni-kiel.de

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/priess-buchheit/>
<https://www.path2integrity.eu/>