

Jenny O'Neill

HEAnet

Biography

I am a Research Engagement Officer with HEAnet, Ireland's National Research and Education Network and the EOSC Mandated Organisation for Ireland. In this role I develop relationships with the Irish research community, leveraging the HEAnet service portfolio and fostering innovative collaborations. I previously worked as Data Manager with UCD Library where I was responsible for management and service delivery of Irish Social Science Data Archive (ISSDA) and I provided researchers in UCD with guidance, training and support in all aspects of research data management.

I have been involved in various national initiatives, including membership of the National Open Research Forum (NORF) Working Group on enabling FAIR research data and contributed to the National Open Research Landscape Report. I am also a project partner of the Sonraí - Irish Data Stewardship Network, reflecting my commitment to advancing Open Research and promoting Data Stewardship practices.
