

Nanette Rissler-Pipka

Max Weber Foundation, German Humanities Institutes Abroad

Biography

Dr. Nanette Rißler-Pipka is a digital humanist, literary scholar, specialist in French and Spanish literature. She is co-managing director of DARIAH-DE and National Coordinator of Germany for DARIAH-ERIC. As such she is also part of the coordination committee of the Association for Research Infrastructure in the Humanities and Cultural Studies (GKFI).

During several visiting professorship positions (Eichstätt-Ingolstadt, Tübingen) and the collaboration with the Helmholtz Association at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology she focused her research on Digital Humanities, digital research infrastructure and on connecting the Romance Languages and Literature to digital methods. She was also a member of the EOSC Future and the SSHOC projects.

At the central office of the Max Weber Foundation (German Humanities Institutes Abroad) she is currently working as Digital Humanities and Research Data Management Officer.

Contact me:

Rissler-pipka@maxweberstiftung.de

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/nanette-ri%C3%9Fler-pipka-114379156/>

<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0719-9003>

<https://fedihum.org/@NanetteRissler>