

Physics at the CERN Secondary Beamlines

The talk will provide a description of the secondary beamlines at CERN. More specifically, it will address the operational principles and the available beam parameters, as well as highlights of the exciting physics that takes place at these unique facilities at CERN. The talk will also cover HiRadMat - the high-energy, single-pulse facility for material tests at CERN.

Presenter: CHARITONIDIS, Nikolaos (CERN)