

CERN70 event on science communication

The Voice of Science

with Katie Mack (AstroKatie)

Dr. Katie Mack will share her experience and advice on how to effectively communicate science to the general public, in particular how do we make fundamental physics (and the researchers who do it) relatable to the general public? The talk will be followed by a Q&A session.

<https://cern.ch/astrokatie>

Find out more information:

Tuesday,
24 September 2024
at 11 a.m.
52/1-052 (CERN Library)

