Hands-On: Making the most of your ten minutes of fame! Some guidelines on making engaging presentations (continuation)

Wednesday 21 May 2025 17:00 (2 hours)

Presentations in working meetings and conferences are the culmination of weeks or months of work and are one of our most important communication methods to our peers. Yet the 10-15 minutes they take are often seen as tedious and boring, both by the audience and even the presenter! We will identify, as a group, some simple but effective methods of improving presentations and posters with hands-on activities to reinforce concepts.
