

New discoveries in multi-boson physics.

We present new experimental results in multi-boson physics which demonstrate the presence of new forces of nature, and also fully characterize a single particle dark matter candidate that simultaneously accounts for the dark matter density of the universe and provides a CP violation mechanism which accounts for the observed matter-antimatter asymmetry.

Author: Prof. HERNDON, Matthew (University of Wisconsin Madison (US))

Co-author: Mr NOBEL, Alfred

Presenter: Prof. HERNDON, Matthew (University of Wisconsin Madison (US))