8th Allpix Squared User Workshop

26 April 2027 - 28 April 2027

Scientific Programme

New Features

Allpix Squared is in a state of active development. During the workshop, developments that have been implemented in the framework since the last workshop will be presented.

Applications & Studies

The uses of Allpix Squared are many and varied, and several talks in the workshop will be dedicated to different use cases of the framework.

Developments

As Allpix Squared is constantly under development, several talks will be focused on features currently under development, and features that users would like to see in the framework. There will also be a discussion and introduction on how to contribute to the development.
