Contribution ID: 168   Type: Talk in Parallel Session at DIS2013

Proton structure functions and physical evolution kernels

Wednesday 24 April 2013 11:22 (22 minutes)

Physical anomalous dimensions allow to describe the Q2 dependence of proton structure functions in a factorization scheme independent manner. We perform the first numerical implementation of these physical evolution kernels at both leading and next-to-leading order. A comparison to conventional DGLAP evolution based on factorization into coefficient and parton distribution functions is provided.

Author: HENTSCHINSKI, Martin (Brookhaven National Laboratory)

Co-author: STRATMANN, Marco (Brookhaven National Laboratory)

Presenter: HENTSCHINSKI, Martin (Brookhaven National Laboratory)

Session Classification: WG1: Structure Functions

Track Classification: Structure functions and Parton Densities