Planning

- When will whole-node support be available?
- When will fixed-multi-core support be available?
- When will variable-multi-core support be available?

Testing

- First phase
 - Experiments will require either whole nodes (through the JDL), or a given number of cores
 - Start up with requested # of cores = 4
- Second phase
 - Experiment will require a variable number of cores
 - Need to have the environment variable procedure in place (how many cores, how much memory)
- Which experiments are willing / able to join the testing
 - It is key to start testing early to help CE developers, sites, and experiment themselves
 - CMS did agree to participate in the initial tests: confirmed?
Others?
- Which sites and for which LRMS'?
