

Murdock Gilchriese

Silicon Detectors and the SSC

The state of development of silicon tracking detectors for the Superconducting Super Collider(SSC) in the late 1980's and early 1990's will be described. Some aspects of the effect of this work on subsequent silicon trackers will be presented.