- To GB members:
- After the GB meeting, you will have to cast one electronic vote on the next year annual meeting venue.

- So far very reduced number of AIDA related publications in CDS.
- What if my AIDA journal publication is copyrighted by the publisher?
- All AIDA publications are to be stored in the CDS publication database. If your publication is copyrighted, the advice from the CERN library service is to upload an as-final-as-possible pre-print version with peer-review corrections taken in, as it is only the publisher-formatted version that is copyrighted.
- Three step solution

Acknowledge AIDA in your publication

"the research leading to these results has received funding from the European Commission under the FP7 Research Infrastructures project AIDA, grant agreement no. 262025".

Go back to step one and start over with another AIDA publication.

Let's thank you the local and aida organizing teams

...and all of you for joining us in Frascati
