

Contribution ID: 47

Type: not specified

Rare Charm Decays at LHCb

Tuesday, 9 April 2013 09:33 (12 minutes)

This talk introduces recent D meson decay results published by the LHCb experiment. Such decays are unique in that unlike B and K decays, they provide information about the coupling of up-type quarks. These have the potential to be affected differently to down-type quarks by new physics.

Primary author: GREENING, Edward Thomas (University of Oxford)

Presenter: GREENING, Edward Thomas (University of Oxford)

Session Classification: Track 1

Track Classification: Parallel Track 1