

Lecturer: Michael Moll (CERN)

Title: “Particle Tracking in HEP”

Abstract:

An introduction to the role of tracking and tracking methods in high energy particle physics is given and the working principles of solid state and gaseous tracking detectors are reviewed. Finally, general performance issues are briefly discussed and some recent developments and future directions are indicated.