

Contribution ID: 82

Type: Plenary

Event simulation for colliders - A basic overview

Tuesday 2 September 2014 09:35 (35 minutes)

In this article we will discuss the basic calculational concepts to simulate particle physics events at high energy colliders. We will mainly focus on the physics in hadron colliders and particularly on the simulation of the perturbative parts, where we will in turn focus on the next-to-leading order QCD corrections.

Primary author: REUSCHLE, Christian (Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT))

Presenter: REUSCHLE, Christian (Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT))

Session Classification: Plenary

Track Classification: Computations in Theoretical Physics: Techniques and Methods