

Contribution ID: 101

Type: Presentation

Overview and status of cosmic ray antideuteron searches

Tuesday, June 24, 2014 5:25 PM (25 minutes)

In recent years the interest in cosmic ray antideuteron measurements has increased due to detection potential of signals from a variety of dark matter, primordial black hole, or gravitino models. This talk will review the motivations and status of cosmic ray antideuteron searches and discuss future detection prospects.

Primary author: Prof. VON DOETINCHEM, Philip (University of Hawaii at Manoa)

Presenter: Prof. VON DOETINCHEM, Philip (University of Hawaii at Manoa)

Session Classification: Cosmic Rays

Track Classification: Cosmic Rays