

Real time (Level-1) Track Triggering: Technological challenges:

The lecture will mainly focus on future application of real-time tracking, with the following broad-brush program: introduction to real-time signal processing (applications and techniques); examples of real-time processing in past large-scale HEP experiments; challenges and design of real-time tracking in ATLAS and CMS experiments