

7.2 Balancing Science and Engineering (CERN)

Wednesday 21 May 2014 11:00 (15 minutes)

The strict distinction between science and engineering is not really existing in large scale experiments, but there is an almost continuous set of 'professions' that span these two traditional topics. In this context I will discuss a few aspects of relations between scientists and engineers.

Presenter: RIEGLER, Werner (CERN)
