

OMC improvements and prospects for 2015

LHC 2015 operation requires more precise and more efficient optics measurements and corrections. Improvements in these directions are presented including a potential coupling feedback based on DOROS. The optics commissioning is described for various operational modes, like beta* leveling, and for the non-linear circuits MCO, MCD, MCS and MSS.