String-Math 2016, Collège de France, Paris

Contribution ID: 38 Type: not specified

Catching monodromy

Saturday 2 July 2016 11:15 (1 hour)

I will talk about monodromy of special functions, why is it important, and about some new ways in which mathematical physicists are learning to think about the monodromy of special functions of interest.

Summary

Presenter: Prof. OKOUNKOV, Andrei (Columbia University)

 $\textbf{Session Classification:} \ \ \textbf{General public session}$