

The International Advisory Committee and the Local Organizing Committee thanks all the conveners, the speakers and the participants for having contributed to make this Conference lively, exciting and an occasion for discussions and exchange of ideas and experiences.

The Workshop editions

Amsterdam, NIKHEF, Netherlands, 5-8 October, 2003

Catania, LNS, Italy, 8-11 November, 2005

Toulon, Var, France, 22-24 April 2008

Athens, Greece, 13-15 October, 2009

Erlangen, Germany, 12-14 October, 2011

Stockholm, Sweden, 5-7 August, 2013

Roma, Italy, 14-16 September, 2015

....

Each edition had it's own "character"

VLVnT-15 edition:

- developments of technologies, photon detectors, radio/acoustic detections, electronics, DAQ, software tools for simulations and event reconstruction, computing models, data repositories, production techniques, infrastructures, ...

but also

- physics results (with a lot of discussions) on experimental results, models for astrophysical neutrino fluxes, atmospheric neutrinos phenomenology, perspectives (programs, sensitivities, schedules) for the future detectors, IN A MULTI-MESSENGER CONTEST.

VLVnT—2015 in few numbers

- more than 116 registered participants
- 18 Plenary Sessions talks
- 81 talks distributed over 10 Parallel Sessions

VLVnT – 2015 Conference Proceedings

The Conference proceedings will be published by the European Physical Journal (EPJ)

www.epj-conferences.org

- 6 pages for contributions to plenary sessions
- 4 pages for contributions to parallel sessions
- 1/10/2015 the "SAGA" submission system will be opened to receive the contribution to the Proceedings
- 30/11/2015 time limit for the submission of the papers
- 31/01/2016 deadline for accepting the papers (after referees work and revisions)
- Instructions will be sent soon

Final Acknowledgements

- The I.A.C. (in particular Christian Spiering)
- The L.O.C.: the Physics Department, the INFN/Roma, the secretariat (Laura, Rossana), the photographer (Maurizio) and in particular my young collaborators (Chiara, Giulia, Silvia, Irene, Paolo,)
- All the parallel sessions conveners
- All of you for your active participation