

Dr. Nikos Vogiatzis holds a Dipl.-Ing. degree in Electrical and Computer Engineering and a Dr.-Ing. degree in Communication Electronics and Information Systems, both from the National Technical University of Athens (NTUA), Greece, and a Master's Certification in Program/Project Management from the Stevens Institute of Technology, NJ, USA. He has been employed since 11/2003 by the Greek Research and Technology Network (GRNET), aiding the deployment of European and Regional Networking Applications, in which function he is acting as the coordinator of the FP6 project SEE-GRID that aims to deploy an advanced Grid infrastructure in South-East Europe. Prior to joining GRNET, he worked as a Senior ICT consultant for the Greek PTT consulting branch in Athens (2003), held various engineering and manager function at the Bell Laboratories Advanced Technologies EMEA department of Lucent Technologies, in the Netherlands (1998 – 2003), and performed post-graduate R&D as a Research Associate in the Telecommunications Lab of NTUA in Greece (1996 – 1998). Dr. Vogiatzis has held engineering and project management positions in several EU-funded Research efforts as well as Industrial ICT projects. He is a member of the IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers) professional society, of PMI (Project Management Institute), of TEE (Technical Chamber of Greece), and has numerous technical and management publications in international journals and conferences.