

Dr. Fotis Karayannis received his PhD (Dec 1998) in the fields of Integrated Communications and Management of Broadband Networks from the National Technical University of Athens, while working as a research-associate in the Telecommunications Laboratory. He participated in multiple European research projects (RACE, ACTS, ESPRIT) in the area of Broadband Networks and Network Management (1994-1999). At the end of 1999 and for 3 years he worked as an external consultant for TEMAGON (former OTE-Consulting) mainly contributing in the IST project WINMAN (WDM and IP Network MANagement). Since 9/2000 he is working as the eInfrastructures Planning and Development Manager for the Greek Research and Technology Network (GRNET) responsible for the development of GRNET networking and grid infrastructures. Since 2002 he is a member of the Executive Committee of the pan-European Grid project EGEE representing South-East Europe (Bulgaria, Cyprus, Greece, Israel, Romania) and in January 2003 he was appointed the Coordinator of the Scientific Committee of the Greek National Grid Initiative – Hellasgrid Task Force, Secretariat for the Information Society. In 2003 he also undertook the coordination of Grid GRNET activities & projects, participating in GRNET Strategic Planning Team. In 2004 he was appointed by the Greek government a member of the recently established e-Infrastructure Reflection Group www.einfrastructures.org, www.e-irg.org, and undertook the responsibility of the chief editor of related white papers on e-infrastructure policies. In November 2004 he was appointed the EGEE Collaboration Board chair, a Board where all 70 partners of the consortium are represented, meeting every 6 months during the EGEE conferences. He is a regular reviewer of IEEE Communications magazine and other IEEE magazines - conferences related to control and management planes of broadband and grid networking. He has authored more than 25 articles in international books, journals and conferences.