

Charm mixing and CPV

LHCb has collected the world's largest sample of charmed hadrons. This sample is used to search for direct and indirect CP violation in charm, and to measure neutral D-meson mixing parameters. New measurements from several decay modes are presented, with complementary time-dependent and time-integrated analyses.

Summary

Primary author: CARBONE, Angelo (University of Bologna and INFN (IT))

Presenter: CARBONE, Angelo (University of Bologna and INFN (IT))