

Peerut BOONCHOKCHUAY

Peerut Boonchokchuay is an undergraduate Computer Engineering student at Chulalongkorn University in the city of Bangkok, Thailand, where he was born raised.

A NMS summer student, Peerut works in PHUCM group under supervision of David Lange. His project deals with methods to optimize the technical performance CMS data format from which the software users could benefit by the faster analysis as well as more compact size of data.

Expected to receive his bachelor's degree in October, Peerut intends to pursue his Master Degree in Computer Science. Thereafter, he hopes to explore opportunities in applying his skills in start-up ventures.