New bridge across Ob river

Novosibirsk is called the capital of Siberia. It is the biggest city in the area between the Urals and the Pacific Ocean and is the third largest city in Russia after Moscow and St.Petersburg with a population of more than 1,5 Million people.

It is located on both sides of the Siberian river Ob and its history is closely connected with the building of the Trans-Siberian railroad Moscow-Vladivostok. Today Novosibirsk is an important industrial, agricultural, transport, cultural and scientific center.

“Akademgorodok” (i.e. Academician town) - a part of Novosibirsk is a world-known scientific center. Akademgorodok-the Siberian city of science - is 40 kilometers south of the center of Novosibirsk. It was founded in 1957 and was intended to be an interdisciplinary research center.

The development of collaboration with foreign research partners is an important aspect of life in Akademgorodok. International conferences, workshops and symposia are held here all the year round.
