Dubna is a quiet and pleasant town situated on the picturesque banks of the Volga River. There is a railway and bus connection between Dubna and Moscow. Its surroundings offer peaceful rural scenery, which, though having no famous monuments, keeps memories of the past. A 2-hour trip brings you to Moscow or Sergiev Posad (the Russian Orthodox center with its 500-year-old Trinity Monastery) or to Klin with the famous Tchaikovsky home museum.

Practical Considerations

The registration fee will be ~300 Euro (including hospitality and proceedings)

Standard hotel accommodation in the two Institute hotels with western style accommodation (single room) 30 - 40 Euro per night—student dorms possible if needed

Many restaurants are available in the town which have English translation menus. Excellent meals can be had starting from 10-15 Euro, with lunches available at the Institute cafeterias (there are several) for much less (~5 Euro)

Typically, JINR proposes to the Russian Foundation for Basic Research, Dynasty Foundation, UNESCO-IBSP, etc. for financial support for students to attend. Other support comes from JINR budget, Heisenberg-Landau, Bogoliubov-Infeld and Blokhintsev-Votruba Programs, etc.

Bus transportation from Moscow airports to JINR and back can be provided for additional fee

Private cars can be arranged through the Institute for a fee

An excursion to local points of cultural interest and a companions program is assumed

Wireless internet is available free in conference halls and at Dubna Hotel
