

Infabric

Dive into the fabric of opinion

'Post-truth' named word of the year by Oxford Dictionaries

US election and EU referendum drive popularity of adjective describing situation 'in which objective facts are less influential than appeals to emotion'

 Donald Trump ... the increase in usage of 'post-truth' is attributed in part to his presidential nomination. Photograph: Jim Watson/AFP/Getty Images

In the era of Donald Trump and Brexit, Oxford Dictionaries has declared "post-

Most popular

Netanyahu and Trump speak on phone amid growing row over Russia leak

Boris Johnson apologises after discussing alcohol in Sikh temple

Chelsea Manning released from military prison

Trump White House faces mounting pressure amid Comey scandal - politics live

Solar power

Indian solar power prices hit record low, undercutting fossil fuels

Plummeting wholesale prices put the country on track to meet renewable energy targets set out in the Paris agreement

Solar panels for sale at a market in New Delhi. India's solar power prices have fallen to 2.62 rupees per kilowatt hour. Photograph: Saurabh Das/AP

Wholesale solar power prices have reached another record low in India, faster than analysts predicted and further undercutting the price of fossil fuel-generated power in the country.

The tumbling price of solar energy also increases the likelihood that India will meet - and by its own predictions, exceed - the renewable energy targets it set at the Paris climate accords in December 2015.

India is the world's third-largest carbon polluter, with emissions forecast to at least double as it seeks to develop its economy and lift hundreds of millions of citizens out of poverty.

Most popular

Trump claims 'tremendous' accomplishments amid Comey scandal - live

Netanyahu and Trump speak on phone amid growing row over Russia leak

Boris Johnson apologises after discussing alcohol in Sikh temple

Chelsea Manning released from military prison

'Erdogan's bodyguards' in violent clash with protesters in Washington DC

31,515 933
Michael Safi

Solar power

Indian solar power prices hit record low, undercutting fossil fuels

Plummeting wholesale prices put the country on track to meet renewable energy targets set out in the Paris agreement

Solar panels for sale at a market in New Delhi. India's solar power prices have fallen to 2.62 rupees per kilowatt hour. Photograph: Saurabh Das/AP

Wholesale solar power prices have reached another record low in India, faster than analysts predicted and further undercutting the price of fossil fuel-generated power in the country.

The tumbling price of solar energy also increases the likelihood that India will meet - and by its own predictions, exceed - the renewable energy targets it set at the Paris climate accords in December 2015.

India is the world's third-largest carbon polluter, with emissions forecast to at least double as it seeks to develop its economy and lift hundreds of millions of citizens out of poverty.

31,575 933

Michael Safi

Follow Michael Safi

https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2018/07/26/indian-solar-power-prices-hit-record-low-undercutting-fossil-fuels

- Trump claims 'tremendous' accomplishments amid Comey scandal - live
- Norway and Trump speak on phone amid growing row over Russia link
- Benis Johnson apologises after discussing alcohol in Sikh temple
- Chelsea Manning released from military prison
- Erdogan's bodyguards in violent clash with protesters in Washington DC

Solar power

31,575 933

 Michael Safi

F1 Indian solar power prices hit record low, undercutting fossil fuels

Plummeting wholesale prices put the country on track to meet renewable energy targets set out in the Paris agreement

Solar panels for sale at a market in New Delhi. India's solar power prices have fallen to 2.62 rupees per kilowatt hour. Photograph: Saurabh Das/AP

F2 Wholesale solar power prices have reached another record low in India, faster than analysts predicted F3 and further undercutting the price of fossil fuel-generated power in the country. F4

The tumbling price of solar energy also increases the likelihood that India will meet - and by its own predictions, exceed - the renewable energy targets it set at the Paris climate accords in December 2015.

F5 India is the world's third-largest carbon polluter, with emissions forecast to at least double F6 as it seeks to develop its economy and lift hundreds of millions of citizens out of poverty.

World

- Trump claims 'tremendous' accomplishments amid Comey scandal - live
- Netanyahu and Trump speak on phone amid growing row over Russia link
- Boris Johnson apologises after discussing alcohol in Sikh temple
- Chelsea Manning released from military prison
- Erdogan's bodyguards in violent clash with protesters in Washington DC

Solar power

Indian solar power prices hit record low, undercutting fossil fuels

01

Plummeting wholesale prices put the country on track to meet renewable energy targets set out in the Paris agreement

31,575 933

Michael Safi

Michael Safi

https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2019/07/11/indian-solar-power-prices-hit-record-low

Solar panels for sale at a market in New Delhi. India's solar power prices have fallen to 2.62 rupees per kilowatt hour. Photograph: Saurabh Das/AP

Wholesale solar power prices have reached another record low in India, faster than analysts predicted and further undercutting the price of fossil fuel-generated power in the country.

02

The tumbling price of solar energy also increases the likelihood that India will meet - and by its own predictions, exceed - the renewable energy targets it set at the Paris climate accords in December 2015.

India is the world's third-largest carbon polluter, with emissions forecast to at least double as it seeks to develop its economy and lift hundreds of millions of citizens out of poverty.

03

- Trump claims 'tremendous' accomplishments amid Comey scandal - live
- Norway and Trump speak on phone amid growing row over Russia link
- Denis Johnson apologises after discussing alcohol in Sikh temple
- Chelsea Manning released from military prison
- Erdogan's bodyguards in violent clash with protesters in Washington DC

Infabric

Dive into the fabric of opinion

I think that...

OPINION

NEWS

1

CULTURE

3

EDUCATION

2

RELIGION

4

7

8

FRIENDS

9

FACT

Your opinion is 5000000 ridiculous!

OPINION

3

2

4

MEDIA

1

FACT

FAMILY

WRITE

01

Share the message you are passionate about with other penguins.

STRUCTURE

02

Identify the fabric of facts and opinions in your message. Make it visible.

EXPLORE

03

Dive into the fabric of opinion of your fellow penguins. Learn about the facts.

INTERACT

04

Upload evidence to prove facts. Express arguments to support your opinion.

We are hiring!

... well, not really ...

I'm just looking for someone to help me build the prototype!

krystof.borkovec@cern.ch