Collaboration review takes (Annex 4 of MoC):

- 2 weeks for journal paper
- 2 weeks for public notes
- 1 week for conference proceedings

Drafts under review are listed on twiki:

<https://twiki.cern.ch/twiki/bin/view/CLIC/CLICdpNotesForCollaborationReview>

Please note that additional time (can sum up to one additional week) is needed for initial review, implementation of changes and final checks...

arXiv submission

We encourage authors to put papers in arXiv!
conference contributions in particular

This is one of the ways to improve visibility of our activities!
However, the paper can only be submitted to arXiv after collaboration review process is completed!

Theoretical papers

For studies which are related to CLIC, but do not use collaboration resources (software, detector model, event samples, etc.) the review is not mandatory.

However, if authors ask for the review, same rules have to apply as for “standard” papers.

Formatting the paper

Updated templates for CLICdp document style and the proceeding front page (including copyright statement) can be found in gitlab:

<https://gitlab.cern.ch/CLICdp/Publications/Templates/Style/tree/master/CLICdpTemplate>

Always check for updates before starting a new paper.

note change of gitlab location!

Plots

Please try to use CLICdp style whenever possible:

Style/tree/master/CLICdpStyle

Remember to put “CLICdp” (or “CLICdp preliminary”) label in the plots.

Always use vector format for publication figures (PDF, EPS)!

Open access license

- the CDS submissions were not copyright protected as “open access” publications
- with help of CDS support, new solution has been implemented: all public CDS submissions from CLICdp will be covered by CC-BY-4.0 license by default
- the cover page templates have been modified to include the following statement:
©2017 CERN for the benefit of the CLICdp Collaboration.
- the majority of the HEP journals publish under open access.
Still, it is the responsibility of the author to make sure that this is the case and to inform the publications committee in case of the submission to a non open access journal.

Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Public License

You are free to:

- Share - copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format
- Adapt - remix, transform, and build upon the material for any purpose, even commercially.

The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms.

Under the following terms:

- Attribution - You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.
- No additional restrictions - You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Congratulation to all authors who contributed to 2017 score so far!

Many thanks to official paper reviewers
and all CLICdp members contributing to draft reviews
Your comments are very valuable! Do contribute...

Many thanks to my colleagues of the PubCom

Still expecting many new submission this year!
