

AVAILABILITY:
100 up time %
but 5% in degraded beam

Antiproton Decelerator

– Vertical instability : We have detected a large instability on the ASACUSA beam. This instability disappear after few shots. Impossible to correlate it to any element so far !

Beam partially lost at 300MeV/c : Part of the beam is lost during the ramp.

It has been solved
reducing cavity voltage.
(To be continued...)

