

Contribution ID: 117

Type: Oral presentation

A Different Angle on Quantum Uncertainty

Thursday, 12 July 2018 12:30 (30 minutes)

The uncertainty associated with the probing of quantum state is expressed in terms of the effective abundance (measure) of possibilities for its collapse. New kind of uncertainty limits entailed by quantum description of the physical system arise in this manner.

Primary author: Prof. HORVATH, Ivan (University of Kentucky)

Co-author: Prof. MENDRIS, Robert (Shawnee State University)

Presenter: Prof. HORVATH, Ivan (University of Kentucky)

Session Classification: Workshop on Quantum Foundations and Quantum Information