New machine

Murphy's Quantum Law: Anything that can, could have, or will go wrong, is going wrong, all at once.

After a broken hard drive on the first machine, the point 5 HLT farm was shut down yesterday evening, together with our “Plan B” machine

We asked for a new machine to techlab, and we just got a third machine that I just finished configuring, and will hopefully survive until 18:00 today.

Resume the work in the afternoon
