The ACK responses are used for counting of tiles on flight. The rendering is postponed when there are 2 tiles on flight (meaning we are producing faster than the client consumes). The rendering resumes when we get one ACK back.

The screenshot displays the Collabora Online interface. At the top, the title bar reads "Collabora Presentation.odp". Below it is a search bar containing "tations". The main toolbar includes standard text editing tools (bold, italic, underline, strikethrough, text color, background color) and presentation navigation tools (back, forward, search, refresh, print, help). The main content area is split into two panes. The left pane shows a presentation slide with a woman at a laptop, overlaid with a 3D effect of multiple slides. Colored callouts indicate editing activity: "YOU editing..." (purple), "ANNE editing..." (green), and "THOMAS editing..." (red). The right pane is a chat window with three messages from "john" and "jane" dated "Thu, Apr 27, 2017". The messages are: "Insert 'v'", "Good to add the version number", "Insert ',"", "Good to add the version number", and "Can we add the version number here too?".
